AI is a helpful tool in some cases but using it to replace human jobs with writing and artistic creation is irresponsible and upsetting. As people we should not be giving AI the ability to replace human works. There should be regulations on what AI training is allowed to use (example the creators should be allowed to choose if they want their works to be used to train AI). Please don't allow AI and the organizations who support it copying and stealing actual human works to abuse something that should be beautiful as artistic expression. People are now becoming scared to show their works for fear of piracy in the form of "AI training".

This needs regulations.
